

Women Can Share in Large Savings if They Take Advantage of the Extreme Low Prices in This

Clearance Sale of Suits

The lowered costs at which every Suit in stock is now marked provides the strongest argument we can make to induce you to visit this store at once and purchase, and as an added argument we might mention the strike of the cloak and suit makers in New York is bringing about a serious situation in so far as the manufacturing of new merchandise is concerned. A great many manufacturers are at a stand-still. So when the opportunity presents itself to purchase garments such as are involved in this price reduction it should be taken advantage of immediately. Prices range in this manner—

$18.00 and $20.00 SUITS for.....$9.98

$22.50, $25.00 and up to $30.00 SUITS for.....$13.95

The materials are such as are in immediate demand and for early fall wear. Styles absolutely correct and workmanship of the very highest order.

Quite naturally, not in all sizes, so still another reason is advanced for quick action.

MONTPELIER

Baseball Association Needs More Funds to Complete Season.

Directors of the Montpelier Baseball association met last evening in the board of trade room of the city hall and went over the accounts of Assistant Treasurer Charles Scott. Another meeting, which will be held this evening at the same place, for the purpose of adopting some means to raise more money, the receipts of the league games to date not having been sufficient to meet the expenses.

Mrs. C. H. Barton went to-day to Nighehead pond to spend the remainder of the week in camp.

Mrs. Charles Dooloff of Main street returned to-day from Lancaster, N. H., where she has been spending a week with her daughter.

The police have been unable to find anything to assist them in tracing the thief who stole the telephone toll box at the Central Vermont station yesterday morning, although the box itself, smashed open and minus the change, was found on the track in the railroad yard.

Judge E. M. Harvey was in Worcester yesterday, two civil suits being tried before him in that town.

Miss Louise Bernardini completes her duties in the office of the Vermont Mutual Fire Insurance Co. this evening and plans to return with Miss Beatrice Diversi to Concord, N. H., for a visit with relatives.

Ryland Taisey has returned from a week's stay in Boston and has resumed his duties in the office of Bailey & Taft. Warner A. Graham of Rockingham, probate judge in Windsor county and representative in the last legislature, was a visitor in the city yesterday, being accompanied by Mrs. Graham.

Brick and cement steps are being constructed in front of the Pavilion hotel to replace the wooden steps so long used as the entrance to the building.

The condition of Miss Mabel Rumsey, who submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Heaton hospital Monday, is reported as fairly comfortable.

Supt. C. E. Mann of the Central Vermont railroad was a brief visitor in the city to-day.

Mrs. L. N. Knight has gone to Springfield, Mass., and other points in Massachusetts and southern Vermont for a visit with relatives.

Attorney William White, who has been in the city for several days on legal business, returned last evening to his home. A score or more of girls in charge of several directors, members of a summer camp in the northwestern part of the state, passed through the city this forenoon on their way to Duxbury, where they will climb Camel's Hump.

Miss Mary Crowther of Providence, R. I., arrived in the city last evening for an extended visit with relatives on Main street.

Officer Patrick Kenry of the Burlington police force, who is at present in the employ of the secretary of state on special duty, was stationed to-day on Berlin street. Yesterday afternoon from 6 o'clock until 4 o'clock he was in front of the State House and stopped all Vermont cars and requested the driver to show his operator's license. Only about twenty per cent of the drivers were unable to show the necessary slips and only one or two made any complaint at being stopped. The secretary of state plans to have an officer do the same thing all over the state, the main object being to impress upon the drivers that they must comply with the law and always carry their licenses, the same as a fishing or hunting license.

On the 10th day of torrid weather and the 22d day in a period that has been broken by few rains, the prospect for immediate relief from the heat seemed very remote. Shower forecasts came from the weather clerk, but so many promises of the kind have gone unfulfilled, that most people were disposed to discount the prediction. Consumers of water for domestic and manufacturing purposes may be glad to know that Barre's supply of water will be adequate for some time to come, even though the drought should continue. This does not mean that users may feel free to waste the water, as the need for conservation is always present. Nevertheless, the city's three reservoir supplies are being well fed and there is no fear of the shortage felt a few summers ago.

Three Barre boys, James Gibson, Bert Mercer and Joseph Williams, who joined the colors when the Mexican scare was at its height in June, having received honorable discharges from the cavalry service, are at their homes here. Gibson, Mercer and Williams enlisted at Northfield June 19 as members of the first Vermont cavalry and were transferred at once to Fort Ethan Allen. When the cavalry unit promised to become merged with the first Vermont infantry, the recruits were given an opportunity to apply for discharges. Thus far three of them have been successful. It is understood that Privates Ernest Thompson and John McHugh are candidates for release. Young Gibson will resume his duties as a bellhop at Hotel Barre tomorrow, a position which he held when he heard the call to arms.

Among the visitors in the city yesterday and to-day were the following people: Judge William W. Porter and Mrs. Porter and Robert Wilson of Philadelphia, motor arrivals at Hotel Barre; Dr. and Mrs. H. Nelson Jackson of Burlington and William J. Kennedy of New York; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bliss and Philip Hanlon of Malden, Mass.; Charles A. Murphy of Haverhill, N. Y.; W. S. Tabor of East Junction, E. Banks of Woodbury, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Quinn of Manchester, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. S. Mark down in Abbott's garment department.

See Abbott's bargain basement for special values in wash goods.

Women's canvas footwear, all styles, $1.29 a pair. Shea's Shoe Store.

Eight hundred Japanese folding fans free to ladies Thursday at Russell's.

James R. Catts of Academy street, who was for some time connected with the Barre office of the Livingston Manufacturing company of Rockland, Me., began work this morning for James Ahern, the Blackwell street tool manufacturer.

A contest in the union Sunday school in the Boutwell district closed Sunday. Much interest has been shown and over 50 have been registered. The defeated Reds will entertain the Blues at a lawn party and supper to be held in Alex. Jameson's yard on the East Montpelier road Thursday evening, July 27. Everyone who has attended Sunday school during the past four weeks is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arkley and Mrs. A. A. Northrop have returned from Hardwick, where they attended the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Gough. The groom's mother, a well-preserved woman of over 90, was present and much enjoyed the occasion. Mrs. Northrop's old home was near Hardwick and she renewed many childhood acquaintances whom she had not seen for over 40 years.

The civic department of the Barre Woman's club will hold their third flower exhibit on Thursday and Friday of this week. Thursday morning from 9 until 12, the Church street school building will be open for receiving flowers. The sweet pea will be the main flower of this show.

A telegram received here to-day brought tidings of the death in Lynn, Mass., yesterday of Enrico Goff, a former resident of Barre, who passed away yesterday. Mr. Goff leaves his wife and several children. The funeral will probably be held to-morrow with interment in Lynn. Until six years ago the deceased was prominent in the printing trade in Barre, having been employed for upward of 10 years in the office of a local Italian weekly. He was well known as a large number of acquaintances in the Italian colony and among those who knew him general regret was expressed over his death. Mr. Goff was around 45 years old and a native of Italy.

Ice cream has joined gasoline, sugar and taxes in their flight into the near-neighborhood. An agreement recently reached by Barre ice cream dealers, wholesale and retail, fixes the price of the frozen delicacy at 50 cents per quart. The rule is inflexible. You may order chocolate or cherry, but you must pay 50 cents for frozen pudding and the 50-cent charge goes down. Dealers say that the increased price of sugar, cream and other ingredients is responsible for the change in the price of the finished product. For the present, the customer who buys his ice cream over the counter and lingers on the premises until the ice cream is gone will pay no more than formerly. Montpelier ice cream freezers recently jumped the price of their product to 50 cents.
